

Discussion Questions

- How comfortable were you discussing abortion before watching the film? How do you feel about discussing abortion after watching the film?
- How are abortion rights connected to trans rights, bodily autonomy, and, more broadly, all issues of individual civil liberties and social justice?
- Why do we need joy & levity in activism around abortion access now? Is it an effective strategy for action?
- Discuss how comedy is used in the film.
 - As an act of resistance
 - As a tool for educating
 - As a way to disarm and engage in difficult discussions
 - As a way of uniting community
- Abortion Access Front is engaged in activism in many ways, like direct protest, clinic support, or exposing fake clinics online. What resonated with you most and why?

Action Items

- BRAINSTORM: Do you have a fake clinic near you? Had you ever noticed it prior to watching the film? How can you educate your community about these “clinics”?
- Interested in exposing fake clinics? Go to Expose Fake Clinics to write online reviews of fake clinics near you.
- BRAINSTORM: Do you have a real clinic near you? How can you support that clinic?
- BRAINSTORM: Are there fun things that you and your friends do already that can be turned into a fundraiser for your local clinic, abortion fund or favorite local organization?
- Interested in calling your representatives about issues related to bodily autonomy or other attacks on democracy? Utilize 5 calls for easy prompts.
- Interested in diving deeper with Abortion Access Front? Watch their Operation Save Abortion series and find the best way for you to plug into the fight for bodily autonomy.

Resources

- Abortion Access Front Activist Tool Kit and Abortion Resources
- Abortionfinder.org
- INeedAnA.com
- Digital Defense Fund
- Five Tips To Keep Your Digital Security Safe While Seeking Abortion Care
- National Network of Abortion Funds

Are you a member of an affinity group, such as Indivisible, an ACLU chapter, or faith based org? Interested in hosting a screening with your org? Host through KINEMA or email us at NoOneAskedYouDoc@gmail.com